PURPOSE

This policy will provide guidelines to ensure:

- Bubup Womindjeka Family and Children’s Centre implements appropriate behaviour guidance strategies that all staff members follow
- each child at Bubup Womindjeka Family and Children’s Centre is guided and encouraged toward acceptable behaviour

PRINCIPLES

At Bubup Womindjeka Family and Children's Centre, our guidance of behaviour will:

- protect the rights and dignity of children
- provide opportunities for children' to develop their sense of agency through real choices and decision making
- begin with the understanding that all behaviour is communicating a need
- facilitate positive peer-peer interactions and support the development and understanding of respectful relationships, both child-to-child and child-to-adult
- grow from the understanding and knowledge that each child's developmental age and stage, background, culture, community and family may affect a child's behaviour
- promote the use of positive and respectful language when communicating with children
- model desirable behaviours in interactions with children and other adults
- empower children to self-regulate
- be free from judgements of children and families and respect the diversity that exists within our community and different parenting styles and cultural practices
- consider the environment as a variable in supporting children to manage their own behaviour
- examine the language used when referring to behaviour and the way it can impact children, educators and families

- use fair, firm and consistent limits and behavioural consequences
- protect the rights and safety of educators working with children

SCOPE

This policy applies to the Approved Provider, Persons with Management or Control, Nominated Supervisor, Persons in day-to-day Charge, staff, students on placement, volunteers, parents/guardians, children and others attending the programs and activities of Bubup Womindjeka Family and Children's Centre.

DEFINITIONS

The terms defined in this section relate specifically to this policy. For commonly used terms e.g. Approved Provider, Nominated Supervisor, Regulatory Authority etc. refer to the General Definitions section of this manual.

Adequate supervision: entails all children (individuals and groups) in all areas of the service, being in sight and/or hearing of an educator at all times including during toileting, sleep, rest and transition routines. Services are required to comply with the legislative requirements for educator-to-child ratios at all times. Supervision contributes to protecting children from hazards that may emerge in play, including hazards created by the equipment used.

Adequate supervision refers to constant, active and diligent supervision of every child at the service. Adequate supervision requires that educators are always in a position to observe each child, respond to individual needs and immediately intervene if necessary. Variables affecting supervision levels include:

- number, age and abilities of children
- number and positioning of educators
- current activity of each child
- areas in which the children are engaged in an activity (visibility and accessibility)
- developmental profile of each child and of the group of children
- experience, knowledge and skill of each educator
- need for educators to move between areas (effective communication strategies).

Behaviour guidance: consists of the most positive and effective ways that adults help children learn to guide or 'self-manage' their behaviour in order to gain an understanding of acceptable behaviour. This progressive definition contrasts with the past approaches of 'behaviour management' or 'discipline' that imply an adult is 'managing'

children's behaviour or using punishment, or inappropriate discipline to control them. (Behaviour guidance practice notes (DET) – see source)

Behaviour guidance plan: A plan that documents strategies to assist an educator in guiding a child with diagnosed behavioural difficulties or challenging behaviours to self-manage his/her behaviour. The plan is developed in consultation with the Nominated Supervisor, educators, parents/guardians and families, and other professional support agencies as applicable.

Challenging behaviour:

Behaviour that:

- disrupts others or causes disputes between children, but which is part of normal social development
- infringes on the rights of others
- causes harm or risk to the child, other children, adults or living things
- is destructive to the environment and/or equipment
- inhibits the child's learning and relationship with others
- is inappropriate relative to the child's developmental age and background.

Inclusion Support Program: Funded by the Commonwealth Government to assist services to build their capacity and capability to include children with additional needs in mainstream services; providing them with an opportunity to learn and develop alongside their typically developing peers: <https://www.education.gov.au/>

Mental health: In early childhood, a child's mental health is understood as a child's ability to 'experience, regulate and express emotions; form close and secure interpersonal relationships; and explore the environment and learn – all in the context of family, community and cultural expectations for young children. Infant mental health is synonymous with healthy social and emotional development. <https://beyou.edu.au/>

Preschool Field Officer (PSFO) Program: The role of the PSFO Program is to support the access and participation of children with additional needs in preschool: <http://www.education.vic.gov.au>

BACKGROUND

'Educators guide children's behaviour through their interactions and communication at all times. The service's approach to behaviour guidance in daily practice impacts on learning outcomes for children. Research indicates that quality learning environments and sensitive, nurturing adults are essential for achieving positive learning outcomes for children.' (Behaviour guidance practice note series (DET) - refer to sources)

This policy has been created to set clear guidelines of appropriate behaviour guidance to be used within the educational and care settings and the children's services across our centre as laid out in the principles of this policy. Positive behaviour guidance encourages children to regulate and manage their own behaviour, supporting children to understand and make positive choices around their interactions with the peers and adults in their lives. At Bubup Womindjeka Family and Children's Centre, we use research-based strategies to guide children, understanding that as research progresses, these strategies may change. We acknowledge that not all strategies work with all children, and that a variety of behaviour guidance strategies will be required when working with any one child or group of children.

Child Safe Standard 3 requires services to have strategies to promote the participation and empowerment of children. When children feel respected and valued, they are much more likely to speak up about issues of safety and wellbeing. Enabling and promoting the participation of children within a service has multiple benefits in addition to enhancing the safety of children, including demonstrating a commitment to upholding the rights of children, checking that what the service is doing is what children want and building the communication and leadership skills of children. With any behaviour guidance strategy used, the rights and dignity of each child must be respected, empowering children to become confident and capable.
